By registering as a user, or by accepting these Terms and Conditions you consent and agree to be bound by the terms and conditions of all the above-mentioned documents and you acknowledge that you have read and understood the provisions provided therein. For this reason, you are advised to read all the above-mentioned documents which form the Agreement and any other letters or notices sent by the Company carefully, as well as the various documents found on our Website and make sure that you understand and agree with them.

Among others we may provide trading services in relation to securities and other transferable instruments, CFDs, and other OTC derivatives such as swaps, options, and futures. These services and related Trades are complex, and you should not use our services unless you understand what you are doing. If you do not pay us any amounts you owe us, we can close your Open Positions immediately and without notice. You are responsible for all losses sustained as a result of your trading. Trades (and resulting profits and losses) are legally enforceable. It is in your own best interest to make sure you understand the losses that can arise from your trading. If you are not prepared to accept all of the above, then you should not trade with us. Please read our Risk Disclosure Notice.

1. PARTICULARLY IMPORTANT TERMS

- 1.1. Some terms are so important that we wish to draw them specifically to your attention. It is especially important for you to read the below and make sure you understand them. If there is anything you are not clear about, please email our compliance team at compliance@dpl.sc.

- 1.2. Please note that words and phrases with capital letters have the meanings given to them in the definitions clause.

2. AVAILABLE FUNDS, MARGIN AND RISK LEVEL

This clause sets out how to calculate (and some of the effects of) Available Funds, Margin and Risk Level. It is your responsibility to make sure you understand how to calculate these and their effect on your Trades.

2.1. Available Funds

- (a) Available Funds are the sum of:

- (i) Account Balance;
- (ii) plus any positive Open Position P&L;
- (iii) less any negative Open Position P&L;
- (iv) (the total of (i), (ii) and (iii) is called your Total Account Equity);
- (v) less the total of all Margin on all Open Positions on your Account (this is your Total Margin).

- (b) In order to place a Trade which creates an Open Position there must be a positive balance of Available Funds in your Account at least equal to the Margin required in connection with the Trade you wish to place. If not, you will not be able to place that Trade unless you deposit sufficient funds into your Account so that this requirement is met. The Margin requirements for different types of underlying assets are displayed on the Platform. However, the Company reserves the right at its sole discretion to determine specific Margin requirements for individual Position, as required.

- (c) Your Total Account Equity must at all times be equal to or higher than your Total Margin and you must deposit sufficient funds to ensure that this is the case. If your Total Account Equity is not at least equal to or higher than your Total Margin, then we can close your Open Positions. See the clause: Can DPL close your Open Positions and cancel Orders?

- 2.2. The Company's Margin requirements shall apply throughout the term of this Agreement. It is the Client's responsibility continuously to ensure that sufficient Margin is available on the Trading Account at any time. If, at any time during the term of this Agreement, the Margin available on the Trading Account is insufficient to cover the Margin requirement, the Client is obliged to reduce the volume and/or number of Position(s) or transfer adequate funds to the Trading Account. Even if the Client takes steps to reduce the volume and/or amount of its Position(s) or to transfer sufficient funds to, and subject to applicable legislation and/or regulation, the Company may close one, several or all of the Client's Position or part of them at its sole discretion without assuming any responsibility towards the Client for such action.

- 2.3. The Client is specifically made aware that the Margin requirements are subject to change without notice. The Client acknowledges that the Company will not monitor the Margin requirements on a continuous basis, and the Company shall not be obliged to inform the Client of the amount of any Margin required under this Agreement.

- 2.4. The Company exclusively reserves the right to widen its variable spreads and/or commissions and fees, adjust leverage, change its swap rates and/or increase the margin requirements and/or the minimum and maximum exposure, without notice under certain market conditions and/or the characteristics of Client's order and/or trading style including, but not limited to, when the trading desk is closed, around fundamental announcements resulting a change in available liquidity in the markets, at times of extreme market volatility and/or when the Company deems that such exposure is risky and that it is not possible for the Company to mitigate its risks. In such circumstances, the Customer agrees to indemnify the Company for any and all losses that may occur due the widening of spreads and the adjustment of leverage.
- 2.5. The Client has the right to withdraw its own funds which are not used for margin covering, free from any obligations (i.e., Free Margin) from the Client's Account without closing the said account. Whilst having open positions, the Client can withdraw up to a percentage of Free Margin as the Company might determine from time to time at their absolute discretion, to protect the Account of being subject to margin Stop Out. It is provided that any credit amount provided by the Company to the Client shall not be included in the Free Margin and will not be available for withdrawal.
- 2.6. Without derogating from the generality of the above, the Company shall have the right at any time and without being required to inform the Client, to set off any negative balance on any Trading Account, against money and/or assets that is in another Trading Account of the Client.
- 2.7. With regards to dealing in Securities, in the event that after debiting any charges in respect of the Services provided in Securities the balance of the Account turns to be a negative and the Client fails to cover such negative amount for 14 (fourteen) days from the date the Account balance became negative, then the Company shall have the right to liquidate part or all of the Securities held on behalf of the Client, in order to cover such negative balance.
- 2.8. Risk Level required to maintain Open Positions
 - a) Risk Level is defined as the ratio of Total Account Equity to Total Margin, expressed as a percentage. To assist you:
 - (i) Total Account Equity is Account Balance, plus any positive Open Position P&L and less any negative Open Position P&L;
 - (ii) Total Margin is the total of all Margin in respect of all Open Positions on your Account.Your Risk Level, Total Account Equity and Total Margin will be displayed on the Trading Platform or communicated to you otherwise.
 - b) Depending on the Risk Level of your Account we may be entitled to close your Open Positions and cancel your Orders without notice to you. Please note that this is in addition to any other rights we may have to close your Open Positions and cancel your Orders in accordance with the Terms.
 - (i) The minimum Risk Level you must maintain in respect of your Account differs depending on your type of Account. Should your Account funds reach a Risk Level equal or less than a percentage as specified in the Platform or communicated to you otherwise (Stop Out Level) you have to maintain sufficient funds in your Account so that the Risk Level is at all times higher than the percentage specified;
 - c) if the Risk Level is at any time at the percentage specified or lower, then:

- (i) we have the right (but not the obligation) to close all your Open Positions without warning and not just those to restore your Risk Level to higher than the percentage specified. All closures will be affected by the Platform at the Price when it is reasonably able to do so at the first Price, we are reasonably able to offer on the relevant Markets.
 - (ii) we have the right (but not the obligation) to cancel all your Orders without warning.
- d) Please note:
- (i) it is your responsibility to monitor your Account (in particular Risk Level) and to ensure that your Risk Level meets the above requirements;
 - (ii) Open Positions will be closed at the DPL Price prevailing at the time of closure;
 - (iii) We are not required to give you prior notice of the closure of Open Positions and/or cancellation of Orders in accordance with this clause. DPL is only required to give notice or contact you before closing your Open Positions or cancelling your Orders as set out in the Can DPL close your Open Positions and cancel Orders? clause, and DPL is not otherwise obliged to do so;
 - (iv) we will inform you via in the Trading Platform (as soon as reasonably practicable) if we have exercised the above rights.
- 2.9. If the Client has opened more than one Accounts, the Company is entitled to transfer money from one Account to another, even if such transfer will necessitate the closing of Position(s) or other trades on the Account from which the transfer takes place.

3. OTHER AMOUNTS PAYABLE

3.1 Financing charge on CFDs

- (a) A daily financing charge applies to all CFDs. Whether you pay or receive the financing charge depends on what you are doing:
- in the case of any other CFD Long Position to which a financing charge applies, you pay the financing charge to DPL; or
 - in the case of any other CFD Short Position to which a financing charge applies, we pay the financing charge to you unless the relevant 1-month LIBOR interest rate is less than DPL's interest mark-up, in which case you pay the financing charge to DPL (and in the latter case the interest rate will be the difference between the 1-month LIBOR rate and DPL's interest mark-up).

3.2 The financing charge:

- (a) accrues on a daily basis (including weekends and public holidays);
- (b) accrues in respect of Open Positions that are open at 5pm Eastern Time;
- (c) is not payable in respect of a Trade that is opened and closed on the same day before 5pm Eastern Time;

- (d) is debited or credited to each individual Open Position that is open at 5pm Eastern Time. The amounts so credited or debited are called the Swap Amount. The Swap Amount constitutes part of Open Position P&L. Swap Amounts are only debited or credited to your Account when the relevant Open Position is closed.
- (e) in respect to other Platforms offered by DPL (other than MT4), is debited or credited to your Account daily

3.3 Commissions

- (a) On some Trades you have to pay us a commission charge, both when you open and when you close an Open Position. Some Trades are also subject to a minimum commission charge.
- (b) Any commission payable by you will be debited from your Account.

3.4 Dividend adjustments

- a) A dividend adjustment may apply to certain types of equity and index CFDs.
- b) Whether you pay or receive the dividend adjustment depends on what you are doing as follows:
 - (i) in the case of a CFD Long Position, we pay the dividend adjustment to you, net of tax that we are obliged by law to withhold, and it will be credited to your Account;
 - (ii) in the case of a CFD Short Position, you pay the gross dividend adjustment to us, and it will be debited from your Account.
- c) Please note that the dividend adjustment does not apply to all equity and index CFDs.
- d) Payment of the dividend adjustment in relation to CFDs may also be subject to tax laws applicable to the jurisdiction of such equities.

3.5 Short borrowing charge

- a) If you hold a CFD Short Position in respect of an equity and the amount of the relevant equity available in the Underlying to borrow becomes limited or in short supply, as a result of which market participants charge higher borrowing rates, then we reserve the right to charge you a short borrowing charge, to take account of the relevant higher borrowing rates.
- b) Short borrowing charges are subject to fluctuation and are at the discretion of lending market participants.

3.6 Financing, commissions, dividend adjustments and short borrowing charge: general information.

- a) The applicable financing and commission charges (including any minimum commission) that apply to you, are communicated to you by the Company from time to time.
- b) Where short borrowing charges are incurred, the calculations of the charges will be obtained from the relevant third parties and made available to you as soon as reasonably practicable.

- c) Where we have reasonable grounds to consider that you, (whether acting alone or in concert with other parties), are holding Open Positions purely to benefit from the payment of the financing charge to you, then we can with immediate effect, give notice to you, to cease payment of the financing charge to you in respect of those Open Positions.

3.7 DPL can vary:

- a) how the financing charge, commissions and dividend adjustments are calculated; and
- b) the types of Trades to which financing, commissions, dividend adjustments and short borrowing charges are applied.

The above changes will apply to existing Open Positions as well as any Trades you place after any variation to the charges becomes effective. Any variation to the charges will apply from such date as we specify, but:

- (i) we will give you at least 1 Business Day notice of any such change, subject to DPL's other rights in this Client Agreement to effect such changes sooner;
- (ii) if a Corporate Action, an Event Outside Our Control, Manifest Error and/or a Market Disruption Event occurs we can make such changes with immediate effect.

- 3.8 Charges in respect of the Services Provided when the Client is dealing in Securities will be levied among others in accordance with Company's and/or Third Party rates in effect at the time the charges are incurred or as otherwise notified to the Client verbally or in writing prior to dealing, and all such charges together with fees, brokerage commissions and other charges will be due and payable on demand and, for the avoidance of doubt, the Company shall be entitled to debit such fees and expenses from the Account Balance. If after debiting such fees and expenses, the balance of the Account turns to be a negative and the Client fails to cover such negative amount, then the Company shall have the right without providing prior notice to the Client, to liquidate part or all of the Securities held on behalf of the Client, in order to cover such negative balance.

4. HOW ARE PROFITS AND LOSSES CALCULATED?

4.1 CFDs

4.1.1 Profits and losses on CFDs are calculated as follows: -

4.1.1.1 (trade size on closing multiplied by (difference between the closing DPL Price and the opening DPL Price of the relevant Trade);

4.1.1.2 less all amounts payable by you to us in relation to that Trade, such as commission, financing, dividend adjustments and short borrowing charges;

4.1.1.3 plus, all amounts payable by us to you in relation to that Trade, such as financing charge and dividend adjustments.

4.2 It is in your own best interests to make sure you know how to calculate profits and losses.

4.3 Note that:

4.3.1 profits and losses on Open Positions will not be credited to or debited from your Account Balance, but profits and losses on closed positions will be credited to or debited from your Account Balance;

4.3.2 Marked to Market profits and losses and the Swap Amount are taken into account to calculate Total Account Equity and Available Funds; and

4.3.3 all amounts payable to or from you, by or to DPL, will be credited to or debited in your Account.

4.4 With regards to Options trading, when opening an Option position, the relevant amount of cash equivalent to the premium required to open such position, will be deducted from the Client Account Balance.

4.5 You should calculate the extent to which the value of the options must increase for your position to become profitable, taking into account all transaction costs. If the option is on an equity, assignments take priority over applicable Corporate Action elections. If the purchased option is Out of The Money when it expires, you will suffer a total loss of your investment, which will consist of the option premium plus transaction costs.

 - e) there is not an Event Outside Company's control which prohibits the Company from effecting the withdrawal;
 - f) the Client does not have any Open Positions or in the case if any Open Positions the remaining Balance in the Account shall be at least double the necessary Margin required to keep the positions open;
 - g) the Client sends the withdrawal instruction in an email or in any other approved method by the Company from time to time.

(b) there is a negative balance on your Client Account, that amount (but excluding the amount withheld by DPL as above in respect of disputes and/or a Market outside Trading Hours) is due and payable by you to DPL immediately.

- (f) if we accept an offer to Trade from you, we will not (generally) have regard to whether it creates a new Open Position or closes (in whole or in part) an existing Open Position; nor will we have regard to any statement you may have made as to whether you are creating a new Open Position or closing an existing Open Position;
 - (g) unless you are dealing in Securities, you are placing Trades on DPL's Markets, at DPL Prices; you will not acquire any rights in the Underlying. However, this does not affect any rights you may have under the Terms in respect of dividend adjustments or Corporate Actions;

- 6.8 You will be responsible for everything done or omitted using your Account number, login and/or password. When dealing with us by telephone we may ask for your name, Account number, four-digit security passcode, or other security information. In the case of telephone dealing, we cannot be expected to recognise your voice. 11. ORDERS

11.1 General

- (a) Subject to this Orders clause, DPL will accept instructions (Orders) to trade when the DPL Price reaches a certain level. Unless we agree otherwise, we will only accept Orders on the Markets identified in the Market Information Sheets, or the Trading Platform as those on which we accept Orders. You hereby acknowledge and agree that the Company may, at its sole discretion and without notice, add, remove or suspend from the Platform, any Financial Instrument, on any type of Underlying Asset or Market, from time to time in the event of a stock transformation event (for example as the result of a takeover, share consolidation/split, merger, spinoff, nationalisation, de-listing, etc.) or if no Client Positions are held in a particular Financial Instrument at that time. Furthermore, the Company may remove or suspend from the Platform, any Financial Instrument, on any type of Underlying Asset or Market, from time to time, at its sole and absolute discretion, by providing written notice to the Clients that have open positions on the Financial Instruments that will be removed/suspended. The written notice to be provided to the affected Clients shall indicate the date and time the trading on such Financial Instruments will be suspended, and if the Client will not close any open positions in the meantime, those will be closed by the Company at the current market prices available on the suspension time.

(b) The following apply to all Orders:-

- (i) all terms and conditions that apply to placing Trades must be complied with both when you place an Order and when that Order is due to be executed. For example, minimum and maximum bet/trade sizes;
- (ii) we will only accept Orders during Trading Hours for the relevant Market (though we reserve the right in our absolute discretion to accept Orders outside those hours);
- (iii) we have the same right to refuse to accept or execute an Order as we have to refuse to accept or execute a Trade. If being entitled to do so we refuse to execute an Order, that Order will be deemed automatically cancelled;
- (iv) all Orders must be on terms acceptable to DPL, acting reasonably;
- (ix) all Orders are executed at the "BID"/ "ASK" prices offered by the Company. The Client places his/her order at the prices he/she sees on his/her Client terminal and the execution process is initiated. The Order might be executed at the prices the Client can see on his/her Client terminal (Instant Execution). Due to the high volatility of the markets as well as the internet connectivity between the Client terminal and the server, the prices requested by the Client and the current market price may change, during the confirmation process. In such event, the Order will be executed at the price indicated in the Company's server which shall be different from the price indicated in the Trading Platform, on a symmetrical basis (Market Execution).s;
- (x) Notwithstanding the above clause, by placing an order for the purchase or selling a Security, the Client agrees to having sufficient funds in its Client Account on the date when it is required to make the payment to settle the Transaction, otherwise the order will not be executed. Furthermore, the Client understands and agrees that there is no guarantee that an Order dealing in Securities will be filled in full or in part. Where a delay occurs for any reason, we will attempt to execute the order as soon as reasonably practicable. The Client acknowledges and accepts that the market price of the Securities may have moved during the time between receipt and acceptance of the Order by the Company and attempt to execute the Order. In these circumstances, the third-party who has provided the quotation to the Company is not obliged to honor the indicative price the Client has received and, if that is the case, the Company may reject the Order.
- (xi) Orders are not monitored or executed outside Trading Hours for the relevant Market (however, DPL reserves the right to do so, but is not obliged to do so);
- (xii) depending on the size of your Order, there may be an additional charge or spread in relation to your Order;

- (xiii) with the exception of attached Orders, you must specifically cancel any Order you have placed. Unless you do so the Order will be executed, subject to all other provisions of this Orders clause and our rights in accordance with the Terms to cancel or void your Orders;
- (xiv) Orders relating to equities may be restricted in size depending on liquidity of the relevant equities on the relevant exchange at the time of execution.

11.2 Subject to the above, all Orders remain in place until the earlier of:

- (a) cancellation by you;
- (b) cancellation by us in accordance with the Terms, see for example the Available Funds, Margin and Risk Level clause;
- (c) in the case of good for the day Orders, 5pm Eastern Time on the day you placed the Order concerned;
- (d) execution;
- (e) expiry of the Order;
- (f) expiry of the Market to which the Order relates.

11.3 The following Orders may be placed with the Company: market orders and pending orders. Pending Orders, not executed, shall remain effective through the next trading session (as applicable). Market Orders not executed because there is not enough liquidity to fill them, may not remain effective and they may be cancelled.

11.4 Execution of Orders

- (a) The following applies in relation to execution of Orders and subject always to the other applicable clauses in this Orders clause:
 - (i) Orders will only be executed during our Trading Hours for the relevant Market;
 - (ii) Orders will be executed by DPL when it is reasonably able to do so at the first DPL Price we are reasonably able to offer. No Orders are monitored or executed outside DPL's Trading Hours for the relevant Market. So if the Underlying trades outside our Trading Hours, the DPL Price at which an Order may be executed may be very different to the agreed execution price of the Order;
 - (iii) note that in times of volatility of the Underlying and at the opening and closing of an Underlying, the DPL Price at which an Order may be executed may be considerably different to the agreed execution price of the Order;
 - (iv) if the Underlying opens through or trades through the agreed execution price of an Order (known as 'slippage' or 'gapping'), we will execute at the first DPL Price we are reasonably able to offer;
 - (v) if the Trading Hours for a Market close at one DPL Price and open at another DPL Price when Trading Hours for that Market recommence with the effect that the Market has traded through the agreed execution price of an Order (known as 'slippage' or 'gapping'), we will execute at the first DPL Price we are reasonably able to offer; and

- (vi) in relation to Markets quoted outside the trading hours of the Underlying, Orders may be executed at the DPL Price we consider reasonable.
- (b) The exceptions to the above are:
- (i) if we have agreed something different with you;
 - (ii) if the agreed execution price for an Order is reached outside our Trading Hours for the relevant Market but (by the time our Trading Hours re-commence) the DPL Price has moved so that the agreed execution price is not (when our Trading Hours re-commence) reached or exceeded. In this case, we will not execute the Order when we re-commence trading; it will remain in force subject to all other provisions of this Orders clause;
 - (iii) we reserve the right to, but are not obliged to, monitor and/or execute Orders outside Trading Hours for the relevant Market.
- (c) Client's Orders such as Stop Loss, Take Profit, Buy Limit, Buy Stop, Sell Limit, Sell Stop are executed at the available prevailing market price which may be different than the price indicated in the Order ("Slippage"). Slippage may occur in the event where the price indicated in the order is not available in the server, for example, due to high volatility and gaps in the market prices. In such event, the order will be executed at the first available price, irrespective of the direction of the slippage, either to the client's favor or not, in a symmetrical and transparent manner (Symmetrical Slippage). However, in the case of any communication or technical failure as well as any incorrect reflection on the quotes feed (i.e. prices to freeze/to stop updating or price spikes), the Company reserves the right not to execute the order or in case the order was executed to change the opening and/or closing price of a specific transaction or to cancel the said executed order.
- (d) Internet Connectivity delays and price feed errors sometimes create a situation where the prices displayed on the trading platform or liquidity connection do not accurately reflect the market rates. We do not permit the practice of latency arbitrage or taking advantage of these internet delays. Transactions that rely on price latency arbitrage opportunities may be revoked. We reserve the right to make the necessary corrections or adjustments on the Trading account involved in our sole and absolute discretion.
- (e) We shall have no obligation to contact you to advise upon appropriate action in light of changes in market conditions or otherwise. The foreign exchange market is highly speculative and volatile. Following execution of any transaction, you are solely responsible for making and maintaining contact with us for the purpose of monitoring the position of ensuring that any further instructions are given on a timely basis. We shall not be responsible for any loss caused directly, indirectly, actually or alleged as a result of any inability or failure by you to do so.

- (k) we have had to close any related hedging position we hold in the Underlying in respect of your Open Positions and/or Orders. In this case we will only close the relevant Open Positions and cancel the Orders concerned.

12.2 We can (in our sole discretion but are not obliged to) close any or all of your Open Positions and cancel any or all of your Orders, in the circumstances set out in this clause. We will endeavour to provide not less than 2 Business days' notice before exercising our rights under this clause. The circumstances in which we can exercise our rights under this clause are as follows, if:

- (a) there is a material dispute between us in relation to any Open Position or Order. In this case we would endeavour to resolve the dispute before we exercise this right;
- (b) we have reasonable to believe that you, (whether acting alone or in concert with other parties), are holding Open Positions purely to benefit from the payment of the financing charge to you; or
- (c) we have other reasonable grounds for doing so (for example, we have used reasonable endeavours to contact you and are unable to contact you).

14. SPECIAL PROVISIONS FOR DEALING IN SECURITIES

14.1 Custody Assets

- (a) Custody Assets shall be held until instructed by the Client to sell, in custody on behalf of the Client and will be registered or otherwise recorded in the name of the Company and/or Third Party's nominee(s), or nominee(s) of any Affiliate, or by a recognized or designated investment exchange or a sub-custodian (each, a "Nominee"). The Company will exercise reasonable skill and care in the selection, appointment and periodic review of such Nominees but will not be liable for their acts, omissions, insolvency or dissolution. Any discrepancy in terms of client assets and any resulting shortfall will be dealt with in accordance with the Applicable Regulations on Client Assets.
- (b) The Company may hold assets for any or all its clients with a sub-custodian in a single/pooled account and/or in the same name as those of other clients. This means that assets will not necessarily be immediately identifiable by way of separate certificates. If the Company or its Third-Party nominee were to become insolvent there may be delays in identifying individual assets, and possibly an increased risk of loss if there should be a shortfall because additional time will be needed to identify the assets held for specific clients. In addition, in the event of an unreconciled shortfall caused by the default of a custodian, the Client may share proportionately in that shortfall.
- (c) The Client authorizes the Company and any Nominee to hold or transfer Financial Instruments (or entitlements to them) to a securities depository, clearing or settlement system. Financial Instruments that cannot be settled through a central securities depository system may be held overseas by a third party (including custodian, sub-custodian, registrar, bank, intermediate broker, or settlement agent) in the name of the Company or a Third-Party nominee. Details of the name that an Instrument is registered in are available on request.
- (d) Notwithstanding the above, Custody Assets shall be readily identifiable as such and as separate from those of the Company and the Company will keep detailed books and records in regard to the Custody Assets holding on behalf of the Client.
- (e) Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Client agrees that any and all Custody Assets held by or deposited with the Company, any Nominee or their respective sub-custodians, nominees or agents are at the Client's sole risk. Company's duty in respect of the custody of Custody Assets shall be limited to acting as bare trustee and to exercise good faith in respect of any action or inaction in relation to such custody. The Provider is under no duty to examine or verify the validity of the ownership of or title to any Custody Assets and shall not be liable in respect of any defect in ownership or title.
- (f) Due to the nature of applicable laws or market practices in certain overseas jurisdictions, the Company may decide that it is in Client's best interest for the Financial Instruments held to be registered or recorded in Company's name or in the name of the Third Person and/or Nominee who is a custodian, and if it is not feasible for the Company to do this, then: (a) Financial Instruments may be registered or recorded in the name of the firm or custodian or sub custodian as the case may be; (b) Financial Instruments may not be segregated and separately identifiable from the investments of the Company or custodian or sub custodian in whose name the Financial Instruments are registered; and (c) as a consequence, in the event of a failure, Financial Instruments may not be as well protected from claims made on behalf of Company's general creditors.
- (g) Notwithstanding the above, the Client shall remain the beneficial owner of the Securities and money that the Company holds on its behalf and agree that the Client will not try to sell, mortgage or otherwise deal in or part with beneficial ownership of the Financial Instruments and money held on its Client Account with the Company. The Client will not be entitled to any interest in respect to the Custody Assets.

14.2 Security Loans

- a. The Client authorizes the Company to lend, as its agent, to a Third Party or others any Securities held in the Custody Account (if any) and neither the Company nor the Third Party shall have any obligation to retain under their possession and control a similar amount of such Securities. In connection with such loans, the Company or a Third Party may receive and retain certain benefits (including stock lending fees and interest on posted collateral) to which the Client shall not be entitled. Such loans may limit, in whole or in part, Client's ability to exercise any voting rights relating to the securities lent. Any securities lent may be lent, in turn, by the borrower.

14.3 Security Interests Liens or rights of Set Off

- (a) To the extent permitted by Applicable Regulations, the Client acknowledges and agrees that the Company or the Third-Party custodian may grant a security interest or lien over Custody Assets in favor of a Third Party, sub-custodian or depository in respect of:
 - (b) properly incurred charges and liabilities arising from the provision of custody and/or dealing in Securities services by the Company or such Third Party, sub-custodian or depository to one or more of the Company's client's; or
 - (c) a Lien arising from the operating terms of a securities depository, securities settlement system or central counterparty in whose account Securities are recorded or held.
 - (d) Such Security interest or lien shall become immediately enforceable in case of an event of default or insolvency concerning the Company or any Third Party, sub-custodian or depository. In such case, the Third Party, sub-custodian or depository may at its sole and absolute discretion, take possession of all or part of the Custody Assets subject to Security Interest, and may in its sole and absolute discretion appropriate, sell collect, convert into money and/or exercise any rights pertaining to all or part of such Custody Assets in such manner and on such terms as it thinks fit.

15. SETTLEMENT OF TRANSACTIONS, CONTRACT NOTES AND STATEMENTS

- 15.1 Clients acknowledge and accept that the Company may proceed to a settlement of transactions only when such transactions have been executed (i.e., completed transaction). 29.3 We shall not be liable for any loss that arises as a result of the exercise of our rights above, unless that loss arises because of our fraud, willful default or negligence.

29.4 In the case of an Event Outside Our Control, you may not be able to access the Trading Platform and you may not be able to contact us by telephone or Bloomberg Messenger.

30. INSOLVENCY EVENT OF AN UNDERLYING

30.1 If an Insolvency Event occurs in relation to any Underlying to which your Open Positions or Orders relate, we can in our sole discretion (but are not obliged to) exercise the rights as set out in the Event Outside Our Control and Market Disruption Event clause in relation to such Open Positions and Orders, acting reasonably and in good faith.

30.2 If we decide to exercise the above rights, then we will do so as soon as reasonably practicable after we have become aware of the Insolvency Event. 31. MARKET SUSPENSION, DELISTING, CORPORATE ACTION, DIVIDENDS

31.1 Market Suspension: If at any time trading on the underlying market is suspended of a Security or in any Financial Instrument that forms the subject of the Transaction, then the applicable Transaction will also be suspended and neither the Client nor the Company will be able to sell such Financial Instrument until such suspension is terminated and trading recommences. Following lifting of suspension, any order that the Client may have given with respect to the Financial Instrument that have been triggered will be executed as soon as is reasonable in the circumstances having regard to liquidity in the underlying market. The Company cannot guarantee that such order will be executed at the first available underlying market price. It is provided that the Company shall notify the Client regarding any suspension, as soon as reasonably practicable from the time such suspension became known to the Company.

31.2 Delisting: Where the Underlying Asset of a Financial Instrument or a Security is in respect of a company, and that company is delisted from the underlying market, goes into insolvency or is dissolved, at which point the Client's order will be cancelled and any Financial Instrument held will be dealt with in accordance with the terms of the delisting, insolvency or dissolution, as applicable. In case the Company will be notified that the Financial Instrument that is subject to the Underlying Asset the Client holds is likely to be delisted, the Company will promptly inform the Client, and then promptly sell the Financial Instrument on Client's behalf at such time and price, and in such manner, as it determines after taking into consideration the best interest of the Client.

31.3 Corporate Actions:

- a) If an Underlying Asset is subject to a Corporate Action, the Company will make an effort to adjust the Trading Account and/or the respective Positions in respect of a Corporate Action depending on the circumstances of each event and according to Company's sole discretion attributable to any specific

- Position held, without being obligated to inform the Client. Such adjustment shall be calculated net of any taxes which may apply with respect thereto. In doing so the Company will make best efforts to affect such adjustment on the basis of good faith and fairness and, where appropriate, by taking such action as is consistent with market practice and/or taking into account the treatment received from Third Parties. Nothing contained herein shall be construed as an obligation of the Company to provide any right resulting out of a Corporate Action.
- b) It is the Client's obligation and responsibility to ensure that it is fully aware of the Corporate Actions or other events related to any Underlying Asset on which its Transactions are based. The Client acknowledges and agrees that not all Corporate Action can be known in advance. It is also Client's responsibility to ensure it has sufficient monies on the Trading Account to satisfy any purchase of Financial Instruments pursuant to a Corporate Action.
- c) If the Underlying Asset becomes subject to an adjustment as the result of a takeover or transformation action, the Company may determine the appropriate adjustment to be made to the Financial Instrument price or contract quantity as considers appropriate to account for said event, all according to the sole discretion of the Company. Such adjustment shall represent the economic equivalent of the rights and obligations of the Company and the Client next to the time of the action.
- d) The Company reserves the right to liquidate any Financial Instrument at the market price as soon as practical following such Corporate Action taking place in order to make any required adjustment (price, quantity or any other adjustment) resulting out of the Corporate Action.
- e) If the Underlying Asset of a Financial Instrument offered by the Company becomes subject to a specific risk resulting in a predicted fall in value, the Company reserves the right to restrict short selling or even to withdraw the specific Financial Instrument from the Company's trading Platform.
- f) The Company reserves, in case of corporate event(s) as defined below, the right to one of the following procedures:
- Determination of any adjustment or amendment to the opening/closing price, size, value and/or quantity of the Transaction (and/or the level or size of any order) shall be at the Company's sole discretion and shall be conclusive and binding upon the Client. The Company shall inform the Client of any adjustment or amendment by written notice sent either by regular mail or email, or through the Platform as soon as is reasonably practicable.
 - Close such positions at the last price of the previous trading day and open the equivalent volume of the Financial Instrument at the first available price on the ex-dividend day.
 - Leave such positions open and incur all costs on the Client (important notice: while opening a "short" position on an underlying index and their respective connected securities that might be involved in a corporate event, the Company shall adjust the Client or the Trading Account with such cost and shall notify the Client as soon as reasonably practicable).
- g) Where a limit order or stop order is placed in respect of a Security or other Financial Instrument underlined by a Security which has been suspended from trading or who had a corporate action before execution or if Client's or Trading Account is suspended, the Company may, but are not under any obligation to, cancel such limit or stop Order.
- h) Where a Corporate Action results in a fractional entitlement to part of a Financial Instrument, then the Company may aggregate those fractional entitlements and sell such fractional Securities and credit Trading Account with a cash value which may be subject to a minimum charge. Where Corporate Actions affect some but not all Securities held in a pooled account, the Company shall allocate the Securities which are affected to relevant clients in such a fair and equitable manner as we reasonably consider is appropriate.
- i) The Company will reflect a Corporate Action on Trading Account as soon as practicable after receiving confirmation that the Corporate Action has been completed. If we are notified of a class action or group litigation that is being proposed or taken concerning Securities that we are holding on your behalf, we are not required to tell you about this or otherwise act on that notification.

31.4 Dividends:

- a) Dividends: In the event of a distribution of cash dividends in relation to an Underlying Asset of a Financial Instrument, a dividend adjustment will be made to the Client's Balance with respect to the subject Positions held by the Client at the end of business day which precedes the ex-dividend date. The dividend adjustment shall be calculated by the Company, based on the size of the dividend, the size of the Client's position, taxation (if applicable) and whether it is a buy or a sell Transaction, whereby in long Positions the adjustment shall be credited to the Client's Balance and in short positions the adjustment shall be debited from the Client's Balance. Dividends shall be credited or debited from the Client's Balance outside the underlying share's trading hours and before and the opening of the share's next trading day and are contingent upon the Client holding its respective Position at the time of the dividend adjustment. During this period, in order to keep the fair value of the Client's Equity until the opening of the next trading day, the Company shall adjust the Client's Position in accordance with the dividend amount debited or credited from the Client's Balance.
- b) In relation to Dealing in Securities:
- Subject to the laws and/or regulations governing Securities held by and/or on behalf of the Client, the Company at its sole and absolute discretion may inform the Client of -and/or exercise- any voting rights attaching to Securities held by the Client at any given time, whether exercisable at a general meeting of a company and/or in writing and/or otherwise, in accordance with the laws and/or regulations applicable to the exercise of such rights.
 - Unless otherwise provided for under the laws and/or regulations governing Securities held by and/or on behalf of the Client, the Company is not obliged to notify the Client or arrange attendance at any annual general meetings or extraordinary general meetings applicable to the Securities held, and/or arrange the exercise of any voting rights attaching to such Securities, whether exercisable at an annual general meeting or otherwise.
 - Once the Company receives from any Third Party any periodic payments accruing to Client's Custody Assets, such as dividends:
 - a. In the case of any cash payment received, the Company shall credit a sum equivalent thereto (net of any applicable withholding or deduction for or on account of Tax as per Applicable law) to the Account Balance (in the case of cash payment in respect of Custody Assets); and
 - b. In the case of any distribution received by way of additional securities in respect of such Custody Assets, credit the Custody Account with such additional securities.
 - Notwithstanding the above, the Company will not be responsible for claiming and receiving dividends, interest payments and other income payments accruing to your investments in Securities we hold on Client's behalf.

32. MARKET ABUSE AND OTHER PROHIBITED TRADING TECHNIQUES

- 32.1 DPL will frequently hedge its liability to you by opening analogous positions with other institutions; as part of this we may buy or sell shares, units or other financial instruments in respect of the Underlying to which your Trades, Open Positions or Orders relate. A consequence of DPL doing so is that your Trades, Open Positions and/or Orders can through our hedging exert a distorting influence on the Underlying, in addition to any impact on DPL Prices. This creates a possibility of market abuse.
- 32.2 You represent and warrant to us on entering into the Terms and each time you Trade, create an Open Position, place or cancel an Order or give us any other instruction that:

- (a) you will not place and have not placed any Open Position, Trade and/or Order with us or otherwise (when you deal with us) behaved nor will you behave in a manner that would amount or raise suspicion of market abuse and/or market manipulation by you (or by you acting jointly or in collusion or in concert with another person). For the purpose of assessing whether you have done so, you may (where relevant) be deemed to have dealt directly in the Underlying to which your Open Position, Trade and/or Order relates.
- (b) you will not place and have not placed an Open Position, Trade and/or Order that contravenes or raises suspicion of contravention of any primary or secondary legislation or other law or regulatory rules including in relation to insider dealing.
- (c) you will not place and have not placed an Open Position, Trade and/or Order in any other abusive way, including but not limited to lag trading and/or usage of server latency, internet delays, price manipulation, time manipulation, or any other practices which are illegal and/or are utilized to give the Client an unfair advantage or which the Company considers at its sole discretion as inappropriate and outside the scope of this Agreement and/or as unfair business conduct. Such practices may further include holding long and short Positions in the same or similar instruments at similar times, including through different Trading Accounts, or accounts held with different entities connected to the Company or together with others, for the purpose of manipulating or taking advantage of the Company or any of the services and benefits it may offer.

32.3 In the event that (i) you place an Open Position, Trade and/or Order in breach of any of the representations and warranties given above or (ii) we reasonably suspect that you have done so, we may in our absolute discretion (and with or without giving notice to you) and without being under any obligation to inform you of our reason for doing so, close that Open Position and/or Order and any other Open Position and/or Orders that you may have open at that time and also in our absolute discretion:-

- (a) enforce the Open Position or Trade against you if it is an Open Position or Trade under which you have made losses; and/or
- (b) treat any outstanding proposed transactions as having been cancelled and/or close any Open Positions and/or sell any Securities held on your behalf at the time, or perform any actions deemed necessary under the circumstances
- (c) treat all your Open Positions and Trades closed under this clause as void if they are Open Positions or Trades under which you have made profits, unless and until you produce conclusive evidence that you in fact have not committed the breach of warranty and/or misrepresentation as referred to above. If you do not produce such evidence within the period of six months from the date of closure under this clause, all such Trades (under which you have made profits) will be finally null and void as between us, and/or
- (d) make the necessary corrections or adjustments on the Trading Account(s) involved (including, without limitation, adjusting the price spreads available to you; and/or
- (e) retrieve from the Trading Account(s) involved any historic trading profits that we can document as having been gained through such abuse of liquidity at any time during the client relationship;
- (f) terminate the client relationship, the Account and/or close all Accounts involved (including, without limitation all other Accounts held by the same Account holder with us) immediately by giving written notice; and/or
- (g) to inform any interested third parties

Open Positions and Trades closed under this clause will be closed at the DPL Price.

- 32.4 You acknowledge that we will not transfer voting rights relating to a Financial Instrument to you or otherwise allow you to influence the exercise of voting rights held by us or on our behalf.
- 32.5 You acknowledge that it would be improper for you to deal in a Financial Instrument if the sole purpose of such a transaction was to impact DPL Prices and you agree not to conduct any such transactions.
- 32.6 Without derogating from any other provisions included in these terms, the Client while dealing in Securities will not perform a Transaction with the Company in connection with:
- a) A placing issue, distribution or other analogous event;
 - b) An offer, take-over, merger or other analogous event; or
 - c) Any other corporate finance style activity, in which the Client is involved or otherwise interested; and
 - d) Any order that contravenes any primary or secondary legislation or other law against insider dealing or market manipulation.
- 32.7 We are entitled to report to any relevant regulatory authority any Open Positions, Trade, Order or other transaction undertaken by you which may constitute a breach by you of this clause.
- 32.8 The exercise by DPL of any of its rights under this clause in respect of any Open Position, Trade and/or Order, shall not affect any other right of DPL (under the Terms or at law) whether in respect of that Open Position, Trade and/or Order or any other Open Position, Trade and/or Order.

33. ABUSE OF OUR SYSTEMS

- 33.1 Subject to the Client's obligations under the Agreement being fulfilled, the Company hereby grants the Client a limited license, which is personal, non-transferable, non-exclusive and recoverable, to use the Platform(s) (including the use of the Website and any associated downloadable software available on our Website from time to time), solely for personal use and benefit in order to place Orders in a particular Financial Instrument(s) in accordance with the terms of this Agreement. - 33.2 The Platform may contain software provided by third parties, and such third parties' software is provided "As Is" without any warranty of any kind. If any third-party software is included within the Platform, then such third-party software shall be provided subject to the terms of this Agreement. The Client shall fully comply with the terms of any third-party software licenses that the Company may provide him with from time to time.
- 33.3 You shall not do or omit to do any act or thing in relation to the Trading Platform and/or any other system, software or communication network that directly or indirectly:
- (a) causes any delay or latency in respect of any DPL Price;
 - (b) results in a DPL Price which is not our then current DPL Price in respect of the Market concerned; or

33.5 If we become aware of any of the circumstances set out in 33.3 and 33.4 above or we reasonably suspect that any of those circumstances apply, then DPL may in its sole discretion (but is not obliged to):

- (a) void the Trade or Trades concerned. In doing this we will close any relevant Open Positions as if they had never been opened. If an Open Position was opened and closed, we can treat such Open Position as though it had never been opened and closed;
- (b) allow the Trade or Trades concerned and/or any associated Open Positions to remain in place until closed in accordance with the Terms;
- (c) refuse any Trades or Orders;
- (d) require that any Trades or Orders you place via the Trading Platform are subject to acceptance via our Dealing Desk before they are treated as placed. If we do this, it means that even if the Trading Platform accepts a Trade or Order it will not be deemed placed unless our Dealing Desk has confirmed that it is accepted;
- (e) prevent you placing Trades and Orders via the Trading Platform and require that all your Trades and Orders are placed via the Dealing Desk;
- (f) require immediate payment of all amounts you owe, including in respect of Margin, losses and any negative balance of your Client Account;
- (g) do or omit to do anything we think fit acting reasonably to protect ourselves and our clients as a whole;
